

OLD: Checking in return books

:OLD

Courier will drop off return materials at the end of the day. Those books and boxes should have the green "WRLC" slips inside the books or on the boxes/packages. If you see the slip with a different library abbreviation on it, put the item on the outgoing table for the courier to pick up.

You will be using the SCF IZ and will need to use the X barcode scanner

Use "Return Items"

Scan item barcode and check the patron column to determine which course of action to take.

If you see, "Deliver To: xxx" in the "Patron" column, write down the tray location on the slip and add "SCF Hold Shelf" to internal note 3. If you see any circulation message in this field, it is okay to clear it unless it has Tammy's name in it or any important message.

If you see patron's name, something else (ILL) or it is blank, you will need to give it to Tammy so she could use owning IZ to check in book (she has to change the configuration in Alma every time.)

When Tammy finishes checking in books in the owning IZs, she will put a slip that says "READY TO CHECK IN THE SCF IZ" into the books. Books now can be checked into the SCF IZ.

Check the other fields to make sure there is no other transit status. If you do see it, clear it as well.

Leave the library code alone

If you see this message in the SCF IZ when using “Return Items”:

The item's destination is:

i
The item is not on loan.

The item's destination is: George Washington University - Gelman Library (by appointment only)
Item is requested

You can cancel the request then use “Return Items” again.

For Georgetown Books

Use BOTH SCF IZ and GT IZ and use “Return Items”. There is no need to give any GT books to Tammy unless there is some kind of issue.

For Oxford University Press (OUP) Books owned by WRLC

Use SCF IZ...you will not see any patron names in the "Patron" column when you return them in. You can go ahead and add a slip to each book then put the books on the shelf. We store all OUP books in the last shelving module facing back of the processing area. It is labeled as "OUP Books".
